HOW TO BE HAPPY.

Subject for Dr. Robert Gordon's Sunday Night Sermon.

"Home is either heaven or an antipodal experience," said Rev. Robert Gordon this morning when discussing the place and function of the family in the social order. "And again and again," he continued, "I have seen just a little friendly help and sincere sympathy actually lift a family out of the pit. Indeed the chances in home conditions which all social workers so earnestly desire can be secured only by changes in our social creed."

"We need some better laws but far more we need changed ideas regarding the marriage relation and obligation. It is a work of education which must be done; and the church, the mother of all educational agencies, cannot refuse to take an active part in this important work."

"The church is not called to dictate but she is called to serve. And in the spirit of humanity she must try to adapt herself to the times, become all things to all men, that she may by all means save some."

Sunday night at the First Baptist church, Mr. Gordon will speak on the subject, "How to Be Happy Though Married." This is the third in the series he is delivering on "The Family." Every seat in the house was taken at the other services and no doubt there will be a large attendance Sunday night.
